

Where I'm from

I am from the Nancy Drew books my mom read in her bedroom, gymnastics, and playing kickball in a vacant lot.
I am from seeing how many Big Buddies you could chew at once and eating the chocolate off the 3 Musketees candy bars first.

I am from Biking around my neighborhood, Pogo sticks, and going from pier to pier looking for crabs in a row boat.
I am from The Partridge family and putting posters of David Cassidy all over my room, from seeing the Beatles movie Help at a drive in theater, coming home after school to watch the Monkeys on TV,
and collecting all the Jackson 5 albums.

Every one of these memories are what made me.
I am what all those memories created.

-Megan J.